The French Kitchen

The French Kitchen is a French Dining restaurant. The cuisine is designed to be classically French but served in the comfort of a modern environment.

The French Kitchen is a partnership of concepts focused on directing tradition to the new millennium. The menu offers traditionally wholesome fare that transports guests to the aura of typical French dining. Even its location in Central Mall lends nostalgia to this new 35-seater restaurant in that it once housed the old Saint Pierre.

Sweet recollection of youthful days bathed in the tantalizing aroma emanating from their home kitchens was all it took for three comrades in the same industry to put their memories into reality. Passion is the common trait they share for their craft and with it comes the birth of The French Kitchen, a collaboration of talents that come in the form of Jean-Charles Dubois, Roxan Villareal of San Marco and Emmanuel Stroobant of Saint Pierre.

The unique skills of the owners will be evident in the total dining experience at The French Kitchen. Nothing has been spared in the sensational details from food to ambience to ensure the absolute intimate culinary understanding that is all French.
